

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The present invention relates to wallets. The Hand Wallet is a receptacle that has 5 pockets for containing various accessories. In Particular, it relates to accessories that are specially configured to serve specific functions, such as a wallet for carrying items during activities. This wallet is designed to be worn around the hand with unique expandable pockets. These pockets are designed to carry items like personal identification information, vital medical information, keys, drinking devices etc. This Hand Wallet will 10 benefit those greatly in daily activities while giving a sense of comfort and security.